

My name is Brad Agen and I would like to be considered for KID's Board of Directors, Position #4.

I was born in Richland, WA in 1954 and have lived in the Tri-Cities most of my adult life. I am married and have three adult children, two of which live in this area.

Prior to my retirement a year ago, I worked in the industrial electrical distribution industry for over 45 years. During that time, I worked with electrical supervisors, maintenance managers, electrical engineers, electrical technicians, electrical contractors, and a few municipalities. I worked with many different personalities in my career and learned when to exercise diplomacy, when to compromise, and when to stand my ground.

I have always tried to be honest, polite, and straightforward with people and fair and open-minded in my views and decisions.

This position is appealing to me as I have an interest in water conservation and its productive uses in agriculture and urban development. It is also a way I feel I can serve my community. Water is a very valuable resource and the life blood of our region. As such, it should be utilized in the most efficient and productive ways for the benefit of sustaining and growing this great agricultural community.

Thank you for your consideration.
